Report on the Audit of the Financial Statements

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of Redwood Empire Food Bank (REFB), which comprise the statements of financial position as of June 30, 2025 and 2024, and the related statements of activities, functional expenses, and cash flows for the years then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of REFB as of June 30, 2025 and 2024, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAS) and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are required to be independent of REFB and to meet our other ethical responsibilities, in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements relating to our audits. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Responsibilities of Management for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, and for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is required to evaluate whether there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about REFB's ability to continue as a going concern within one year after the date that the financial statements are available to be issued.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and therefore is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with GAAS and Government Auditing Standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Misstatements are considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, they would influence the judgment made by a reasonable user based on the financial statements.

In performing an audit in accordance with GAAS and Government Auditing Standards, we:

- Exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.
- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of REFB's internal control. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluate the overall presentation of the financial statements.
- Conclude whether, in our judgment, there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about REFB's ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audits, significant audit findings, and certain internal control-related matters that we identified during the audits.

Supplementary Information

Our audits were conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the financial statements as a whole. The accompanying schedule of expenditures of federal and state awards, as required by Title 2 U.S. Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) Part 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards, and the additional supplementary information on pages 36 through 40 required by the Audit Guide issued by the California Department of Social Services, are presented for purposes of additional analysis and are not a required part of the financial statements. Such information is the responsibility of management and was derived from and relates directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the financial statements and certain additional procedures, including comparing and reconciling such information directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements or to the financial statements themselves, and other additional procedures in accordance with GAAS. In our opinion, the information is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the financial statements as a whole.

Other Reporting Required by Government Auditing Standards

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, for the year ended June 30, 2025, we have also issued our report dated December 8, 2025, on our consideration of REFB's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements and other matters. The purpose of that report is solely to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over financial reporting and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on the effectiveness of REFB's internal control over financial reporting or on compliance. That report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards in considering REFB's internal control over financial reporting and compliance.

Note A. Nature of Organization

Since 1987, Redwood Empire Food Bank (REFB), a California nonprofit public benefit corporation, has provided food and nourishment to those facing hunger—serving more than 142,000 children, families, and seniors in Sonoma, Lake, Mendocino, Humboldt, and Del Norte Counties. With over 300 direct service distributions and 130 partnerships with local human service organizations, all residents facing food insecurity have regular access to weekly and monthly food distribution sites across the five counties. REFB is both publicly and privately funded, having program contracts with federal, state, and local agencies that include the California Department of Social Services (CDSS), as well as individual contributors.

REFB's major program services are as follows:

Partner Organizations – REFB's approximately 130 Partner Organizations are independent nonprofits that provide additional community support through their hunger relief efforts. Their primary food source is REFB and they operate throughout the five-county service region.

Senior Security (SS) – SS offers multiple opportunities for clients aged 60 and above to access the nutrition they need to lead healthy, independent lives. Approximately 16,000 seniors per month are served through this initiative.

Neighborhood Hunger Network (NHN) – NHN includes multiple programs providing staple groceries and fresh produce to anyone in need. REFB serves approximately 36,000 individuals per month through this initiative.

Every Child, Every Day (ECED) – The ECED initiative includes multiple programs specifically aimed at ending childhood hunger by filling gaps in school-based nutrition assistance. In addition to staple groceries and fresh produce, some sites offer children prepared meals. REFB serves approximately 15,000 individuals per month through this initiative.

Food Connections Resource Center (FCRC) – The FCRC offers regular assistance to anyone interested in applying to the federal Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (known as CalFresh in California). Additional information regarding immediate food assistance and ongoing access to resources is also provided.

Note B. Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Presentation

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAP).

Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include cash in banks and money market accounts. REFB considers all highly liquid investments with an original maturity of three months or less when purchased to be cash equivalents, except when a restriction is imposed that limits the investment's use to long-term.

Grants, Other Receivables and Allowance for Credit Losses

Grants and other receivables represent funds due from affiliated agencies for shared maintenance costs, food purchase costs, and from governments for contracted food distribution services. Grants and other receivables are stated at net realizable value and are recorded when revenue is recognized. REFB maintains an allowance for credit losses in accordance with the Current Expected Credit Loss model, which requires the recognition of expected credit losses over the life of the receivables based on historical loss experience, current conditions, and reasonable and supportable forecasts.

The allowance for credit losses is estimated using a combination of quantitative and qualitative factors, including the aging of receivables, customer creditworthiness, payment history, macroeconomic conditions, and industry trends. REFB evaluates the adequacy of the allowance on a periodic basis, making adjustments as necessary to reflect changes in credit risk.

Grants and other receivables are written off when deemed uncollectible after all collection efforts have been exhausted. Recoveries of amounts previously written off are recognized in income when received.

Management believes receivables recorded as of June 30, 2025 and 2024 are fully collectible. Accordingly, no allowance for credit loss is recorded.

Investments

Investments are comprised of negotiable certificates of deposit, exchange-traded funds, mutual funds, corporate fixed-income securities, municipal bonds and other government securities. REFB initially records investment purchases at cost, or if donated, at fair value on the date of donation. Thereafter, investments are reported at their fair values in the statements of financial position.

Investment income consists of interest and dividend income, realized and unrealized capital gains and losses, less external and direct internal investment expenses. Securities transactions are recorded on a trade-date basis, with realized gains and losses on securities transactions determined on a specific identification basis and interest income recognized under the accrual basis. Dividend income is recognized on the ex-dividend date. Investment income or loss is recognized as an increase or decrease in net assets without donor restriction unless a donor or the law restricts their use.

Inventory

Inventory consists of food and nonfood grocery items, both donated and purchased. Purchased food products are stated at the lower of cost (first-in, first-out method) or net realizable value. Government commodities are carried in inventory at a cost figure provided by government agencies and the value of donated food is determined according to a composite per-pound rate determined by a cost study performed by Feeding America, the nation's largest nongovernmental hunger-relief program. Donated food that was received during the years ended June 30, 2025 and 2024, was valued at $1.74 and $1.57 per pound, respectively. Management has concluded that the expected credit losses on inventory are not material to the financial statements and, therefore, no allowance is recorded.

Property, Equipment and Improvements

Property, equipment and improvements are stated at cost. Depreciation is computed on the straight-line method over useful lives ranging from three to 40 years. Donated property is recorded at the estimated fair value at the date of receipt. Such donations are reported as without donor restriction unless the donor has restricted the donated asset to a specific purpose. Assets donated with explicit restrictions regarding their use and contributions of cash that must be used to acquire property and equipment are reported as donor restricted.

Deferred Grant Revenue

REFB receives grants from governmental agencies for direct and indirect program costs. The grants are subject to certain restrictions, which are met by incurring qualified expenses or by performing activities as specified in the grant agreement. Deferred grant revenue represents funds received but performance obligations have not yet been fulfilled.

Revenue Recognition and Contributions

Contributions, including unconditional promises to give, are recognized when received. All contributions are reported as increases in net assets without donor restriction unless use of the contributed asset is specifically restricted by the donor. REFB reports gifts and other assets as restricted support if they are received with donor stipulations that limit the use of the donated assets. When a donor restriction expires, that is, when a stipulated time restriction ends or purpose restriction is accomplished, net assets with donor restriction are reclassified to net assets without donor restriction and reported in the statements of activities as net assets released from restriction.

Unconditional promises with payments due in future years have an implied restriction to be used in the year the payment is due, and therefore are reported as net assets with donor restrictions until the payment is due unless the contribution is clearly intended to support activities of the current year or is received with permanent donor restrictions. Conditional promises are not recognized until all conditions on which they depend are substantially met.

Partnering with other hunger-relief organizations throughout the region is essential in fortifying REFB's food safety net. REFB's 130 partners help to create a vast network of pantries, dining rooms, shelters, group homes, and childcare facilities and are located in most cities, towns and unincorporated areas throughout REFB's service area. Partners in Sonoma, Lake, Mendocino, Humboldt, and Del Norte counties acquire food from REFB in order to support the partner programs, and together they work to support neighbors in need. Partners purchase items at cost plus markup and acquire donated items that may include a shared maintenance fee to help defray a portion of operating expenses. Revenue from purchased food sales and the shared maintenance fee is recognized at the time of the transfer of food.

REFB has concluded that revenue from federal and state contracts represents conditional contributions, as defined by Accounting Standards Update (ASU) 2018-08. As such, revenue on these contracts is generally recognized as contract-related expenditures are made. Contract-related expenditures are considered the best available measure of performance under the terms of the contract.

REFB is a beneficiary under several donors' wills. Contributions from bequests are recognized as contributions when the underlying assets are received.

Special Event Revenue

Special event revenue is recognized when the event occurs and includes both an exchange and a contribution component. The portion of the gross proceeds paid by the attendee, representing payment for the direct cost of the benefits received by the attendee at the event, is the exchange component. Unless a verifiable objective means exists to demonstrate otherwise, the fair value of meals and entertainment provided at events is measured at the actual cost to REFB. The contribution component is the excess of the gross proceeds over the fair value of the direct donor benefit. Special event revenue is reported in the statements of activities net of direct costs.

Contributed Nonfinancial Assets

Contributed nonfinancial assets are reported as contributions without donor restrictions unless explicit donor stipulations specify how the donated assets must be used or disposed of. Gifts of long-lived assets with explicit restrictions that specify how the assets are to be used and gifts of cash or other assets that must be used to acquire long-lived assets are reported as contributions with donor restrictions. Absent explicit donor stipulations about how those long-lived assets must be maintained, REFB reports expirations of donor restrictions as net assets without donor restrictions when the donated assets are received or when acquired or constructed assets, funded by donor contributions, are placed into service. Fair value is determined as of the date of the donation.

Donated Services

Contributions of donated services that create or enhance nonfinancial assets or that require specialized skills, are provided by individuals possessing those skills, and would typically need to be purchased if not provided by donation are recorded at their fair values in the year received. Many individuals volunteer their time and perform a variety of tasks that assist REFB in support of its programs and fundraising activities; however, these donated services are not reflected in the financial statements since the services do not require specialized skills. REFB received approximately 134,000 and 153,000 volunteer hours during the years ended June 30, 2025 and 2024, respectively.

Functional Expense Allocation

REFB allocates operational costs between program, management and general, and fundraising by utilizing a cost allocation policy that is updated and reviewed annually. REFB applies several methods for allocating costs. Expenses that can be identified with a program are charged directly to that program as direct costs. Costs common to multiple functions have been allocated among the various functions benefited on the basis of periodic time and effort. Management and general expenses include those costs that are not directly identifiable with a program, but which provide for the overall support and direction of REFB. These costs are allocated to the functions using a base that results in an equitable distribution. The allocation is reflected in the statements of functional expenses.

Net Assets

Net assets, revenues, expenses, gains, and losses are classified based on the existence or absence of donor-imposed restrictions. Accordingly, net assets of REFB and changes therein are classified and reported as follows:

Without donor restriction – Net assets that are not subject to donor-imposed restrictions. These also may be designated for specific purposes by action of the Board of Directors.

With donor restriction – Net assets subject to donor-imposed stipulations that may or will be met by actions of REFB to meet the stipulations or that become unrestricted at the date specified by the donor or net assets subject to donor-imposed stipulations that are maintained permanently by REFB. The income from these assets is available for either general operations or specific programs as specified by the donor.

Net assets released from restriction – Net assets with donor restriction are released to net assets without donor restriction when the donor-stipulated purpose has been fulfilled and/or the stipulated time period has elapsed.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions based on management's knowledge and experience. Those estimates affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities, and the reported amounts of revenue, support, and expenses. The use of management's estimates primarily relates to the value of non-purchased food, the allowance for credit losses, depreciable lives of property, equipment and improvements, and the allocation of expenses by function. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Income Taxes

REFB is a not-for-profit organization and is exempt from federal and state income taxes under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code and Section 23701(d) of the California Revenue and Taxation Code. However, REFB is subject to income taxes on any net income that is derived from a trade or business, regularly carried on, and not in furtherance of the purposes for which it was granted exemption, commonly referred to as unrelated business income. No income tax provision has been recorded for the years ended June 30, 2025 and 2024, as management determined that REFB had no unrelated business income.

REFB is subject to "Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes" under Accounting Standards Codification (ASC) 740, Income Taxes. ASC 740 requires the evaluation of tax positions taken or expected to be taken in REFB's tax returns and does not allow recognition of tax positions that do not meet a "more-likely-than-not" threshold of being sustained by the applicable tax authority. REFB does not believe it has taken any tax positions that would not meet this threshold. REFB's policy is to reflect interest and penalties related to uncertain tax positions as part of income tax expense, when and if they become applicable. REFB's federal and state income tax returns are subject to possible examination by the taxing authorities until the expiration of the related statutes of limitations on those tax returns. In general, federal income tax returns have a three-year statute of limitations, and state income tax returns have a four-year statute of limitations.

Reclassification of Prior Year Amounts

Certain prior year amounts have been reclassified for consistency with the current year presentation. These reclassifications had no effect on prior year net assets.

Note F. Fair Value Measurements

The framework for measuring fair value provides a fair value hierarchy that prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value. The hierarchy gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1 measurements) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (Level 3 measurements). Valuation techniques maximize the use of relevant observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs. The three levels of the fair value hierarchy are described below:

Level 1 Inputs to the valuation methodology are unadjusted quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities in active markets that the entity has the ability to access.

Level 2 Inputs to the valuation methodology include:

- quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets;
- quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities in inactive markets;
- inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the asset or liability;
- inputs that are derived principally from or corroborated by observable market data by correlation or other means.

Level 3 Inputs to the valuation methodology are unobservable and significant to the fair value measurement.

REFB invests in mutual funds, exchange-traded funds, and government securities for which fair value is determined based upon quoted prices for identical instruments in active markets. Municipal bonds and corporate fixed income securities are valued by a third party using a discounted cash flow model to include coupon, yield, and expected maturity as key inputs and are reported as a Level 2 measurement. Negotiable certificates of deposit are valued at amortized cost, which approximate fair value and are reported as a Level 2 measurement.

The preceding methods described may produce fair value calculations that may not be indicative of net realizable value or reflective of future fair values. There have been no changes in the methodologies used as of June 30, 2025 and 2024.

Years Ended June 30, 2025 and 2024

The outstanding borrowings bear interest at a rate of 2.50% plus one-month SOFR (6.93% as of June 30, 2025). The line has no expiration date. The line is secured by investments of REFB. No amounts are outstanding under the line of credit as of June 30, 2025 and 2024.

Note J. Endowment Fund and Net Asset Classification

REFB has an established endowment fund to allow for donor-restricted endowment funds and funds designated as endowment (quasi-endowment) by the Board of Directors. REFB's Board of Directors has interpreted the State Uniform Prudent Management of Institutional Funds Act as allowing REFB to appropriate for expenditure or accumulate as much of the endowment fund as REFB determines is prudent for the uses, benefits, purposes, and durations for which the endowment is established, subject to the intent of the donor as expressed in the gift instrument. Net assets associated with endowment funds, including funds designated to function as endowment funds are classified and reported based on the existence or absence of donor-imposed restrictions. As of June 30, 2025 and 2024, the endowment consists of $13,374,100 of Board-designated endowment funds.

REFB has adopted investment and spending policies that attempt to preserve the endowment's assets. Under these policies, assets are expected to earn an average rate of return in excess of the rate of inflation, as measured by the Consumer Price Index. Actual returns in any given year may vary from this amount.

To achieve its long-term rate of return objectives, REFB relies on a total return strategy in which investment returns are achieved through both capital appreciation (realized and unrealized gains) and current yield (interest and dividends). REFB targets a diversified asset allocation that includes fixed income and U.S. equity investments as well as cash equivalents to achieve its long-term objectives within prudent risk constraints.

The fair value of assets associated with individual donor-restricted investments may fall below the value of the initial and subsequent donor gift amounts (deficit). When donor endowment deficits exist, they are classified as a reduction of net assets with donor restriction. As of June 30, 2025 and 2024, the endowment does not include any donor-restricted funds.

Years Ended June 30, 2025 and 2024

Note K. Contributed Nonfinancial Assets

REFB receives donations of food for distribution from the U.S Department of Agriculture through the Commodity Supplemental Food Program (CSFP) and the Emergency Food Assistance Program (EFAP) and others. Contributed nonfinancial assets-are utilized in all REFB's programs. Direct service programs include ECED, SS, NHN, and FCRC. Contributed nonfinancial assets-recognized in the statements of activities consists of the following for the years ended June 30:

	2025	2024	Program	Donor restrictions
Donated food
CSFP	$ 2,692,694	$ 2,595,549	Direct service programs	Program eligibility
EFAP	3,321,115	5,149,866	Direct service programs	Program eligibility
Others	39,907,953	34,108,901	All programs	Program eligibility
	45,921,762	41,854,316
Equity stock	328.978	198,596	All programs	None
	$ 46,250,740	$ 42,052,912

Various valuation techniques and inputs are used to determine the value of contributed nonfinancial assets. The value of CSFP and EFAP donated food is based on rates provided by the USDA at the time of order. Donated food received from other sources is valued using a per-pound rate established by Feeding America. Donated equity securities are recorded at fair value based on quoted market prices on the date of contribution.

Note L. Investment Income

Investment returns as reflected in the statements of activities include the following:

Year ended June 30,	2025	2024
Interest and dividends	$ 1,624,706	$ 1,153,099
Realized and unrealized gains, net	869,480	1,253,586
	$ 2,494,186	$ 2,406,685

Investment securities are exposed to various risks, such as interest rate, market rate and credit risks. Due to the level of risk associated with certain investment securities, it is at least reasonably possible that changes in risk in the near term would materially affect REFB's investment balance reported in the statements of financial position.

Years Ended June 30, 2025 and 2024

Note M. Liquidity

During the years ended June 30, 2025 and 2024, REFB covered its general expenditures with existing working capital and by maintaining and expanding existing programs and relationships with funders who have provided donations without restrictions and are willing to provide multi-year grants. Financial assets available for general expenditure, that is, without donor or other restrictions limiting their use, within one year of the statement of financial position date, comprise the following:

June 30,	2025	2024
Cash and cash equivalents	$ 2,344,426	$ 3,567,954
Grant receivables	363,671	754,511
Other receivables	389,801	110,207
Investments	36,821,776	33,887,334
	39,919,674	38,320,006
Less: funds unavailable for general expenditure within one year due to donor imposed restrictions	(114,909)	(121,905)
 Funds available to meet expenditures within one year	 $ 39,804,765	 $ 38,198,101
 Less funds unavailable to management without Board's approval	 13,374,100	 13,374,100
 Funds available to management to meet expenditures within one year	 $ 26,430,665	 $ 24,824,001

Note N. Nonoperating Income (Expense)

During the year ended June 30, 2025, REFB recognized nonoperating income of approximately $1.2 million related to the reversal of a contingent liability recorded in 2024. The liability recorded in the prior year was higher than the actual exposure and the majority of the costs were ultimately covered by insurance. During the year ended June 30, 2024, a nonoperating loss of $1.25 million was recorded for the initial recognition of the liability.

Note O. Retirement Plan

REFB maintains a 403(b)-retirement plan that requires matching contributions up to 5% of a participant's eligible compensation. The plan is available to eligible employees upon having completed one month of service. Matching contributions amounted to $270,782 and $268,200 for the years ended June 30, 2025 and 2024, respectively.

Note P. Related-Party Transactions

REFB receives contributions from board members that help support the Organization. During the years ended June 30, 2025 and 2024, the Organization received contributions of $261,856 and $93,597, respectively, from related parties.

Note Q. Risks and Uncertainties

Market risk

Market risk arises primarily from changes in the market value of financial instruments. Theoretically, REFB's exposure is equal to the value of the securities purchased. Exposure to market risk is influenced by a number of factors, including the relationship between financial instruments, and the volatility and liquidity in the markets in which the financial instruments are traded. REFB attempts to control its exposure to market risk through various analytical monitoring techniques.

Government Assistance

REFB receives significant assistance from numerous government agencies in the form of contracts and grants. Any interruption of these funding sources could result in a significant impact on REFB's operations. Expenditures of these funds require compliance with the agreements and are subject to audit. Any disallowed expenditures resulting from such audits become a liability of REFB. In the opinion of management, the results of such audits, if any, will not have a material effect on the financial position of REFB as of June 30, 2025 and 2024.

Deposit Risk

REFB maintains its cash in demand deposits with commercial banks and money market accounts with financial institutions which, at times, exceed federally insured limits. Accounts with commercial banks and financial institutions are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) up to $250,000. The uninsured portions of cash and money market accounts are backed solely by the assets of the underlying institution. As such, the failure of an underlying institution could result in financial loss to REFB. However, REFB has not experienced any such losses in the past and does not believe it is exposed to any significant financial risk on these cash balances. REFB had approximately $1.1 million and $2.6 million on deposit in excess of the FDIC insured amount as of June 30, 2025 and 2024, respectively.

Note R. Nutrition Program

REFB has an agreement with the CDSS under the Child and Adult Care Food Program, as reported in the Schedule of Expenditures of Federal and State Awards. However, no nutrition audit report schedules are included in the audit because (1) the audit disclosed no overpayments, underpayments, or program findings, (2) REFB did not request reimbursement of audit costs, and (3) the audit is not a program-specific nutrition audit.

Note S. Subsequent Events

REFB evaluated subsequent events through December 8, 2025, the date which the financial statements were available to be issued.

Redwood Empire Food Bank
Notes to Schedule of Expenditures of Federal and State Awards

Year Ended June 30, 2025

Note A. Basis of Presentation

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal and State Awards (the “Schedule”) includes award activity of Redwood Empire Food Bank (“REFB”) under programs of the federal and state government for the year ended June 30, 2025. The information in this Schedule is presented in accordance with the requirements of Title 2 U.S. Code of Federal Regulations Part 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards (“Uniform Guidance”), and with the California Department of Social Services issued Audit Guide. Because the Schedule presents only a selected portion of the operations of REFB, it is not intended to and does not present the financial position, changes in net assets, or cash flows of REFB.

Note B. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Expenditures reported on the Schedule are reported on the accrual basis of accounting. Such expenditures are recognized following the cost principles contained in the Uniform Guidance, wherein certain types of expenditures are not allowable or are limited as to reimbursement.

Note C. Food Distribution

The amounts reported for the Food Commodities programs represent the dollar value of the U.S. Department of Agriculture (“USDA”) food commodities distributed to REFB during the year. The USDA and other distributors provide the current value of the commodities to compute the amounts reported.

Note D. Indirect Cost Rate

REFB did not elect to use the 15% de minimis indirect cost rate allowed under the Uniform Guidance.

Compliance

Independent Auditor's Report on Internal Control Over Financial Reporting and on Compliance and Other Matters Based on an Audit of Financial Statements Performed in Accordance with Government Auditing Standards

To the Board of Directors
Redwood Empire Food Bank

We have audited, in accordance with the auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards issued by the Comptroller General of the United States, the financial statements of Redwood Empire Food Bank (REFB), which comprise REFB's statement of financial position as of June 30, 2025, and the related statements of activities, functional expenses, and cash flows for the year then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements, and have issued our report thereon dated December 8, 2025.

Report on Internal Control over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements, we considered REFB's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of REFB's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of REFB's internal control.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct, misstatements on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the entity's financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph of this section and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses or significant deficiencies. Given these limitations, during our audit we did not identify any deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be material weaknesses. However, material weaknesses or significant deficiencies may exist that were not identified.

Report on Compliance and Other Matters

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether REFB's financial statements are free from material misstatement, we performed tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the financial statements. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance or other matters that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards.

Independent Auditor's Report on Internal Control Over Financial Reporting and on Compliance and Other Matters Based on an Audit of Financial Statements Performed in Accordance with Government Auditing Standards (continued)

Purpose of this Report

The purpose of this report is solely to describe the scope of our testing of internal control and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on the effectiveness of REFB's internal control or on compliance. This report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards in considering REFB's internal control and compliance. Accordingly, this communication is not suitable for any other purpose.

Independent Auditor's Report on Compliance for Each Major Federal Program and Report on Internal Control Over Compliance Required by the Uniform Guidance

To the Board of Directors
Redwood Empire Food Bank

Report on Compliance for Each Major Federal Program

Opinion on Each Major Federal Program

We have audited Redwood Empire Food Bank's (REFB) compliance with the types of compliance requirements identified as subject to audit in the OMB Compliance Supplement that could have a direct and material effect on each of REFB's major federal programs for the year ended June 30, 2025. REFB's major federal programs are identified in the summary of auditor's results section of the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs.

In our opinion, REFB complied, in all material respects, with the compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on each of its major federal programs for the year ended June 30, 2025.

Basis for Opinion on Each Major Federal Program

We conducted our audit of compliance in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAS); the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards issued by the Comptroller General of the United States; and the audit requirements of Title 2 U.S. Code of Federal Regulations Part 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards (Uniform Guidance). Our responsibilities under those standards and the Uniform Guidance are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of Compliance section of our report.

We are required to be independent of REFB and to meet our other ethical responsibilities, in accordance with relevant ethical requirements relating to our audit. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion on compliance for each major federal program. Our audit does not provide a legal determination of REFB's compliance with the compliance requirements referred to above.

Responsibilities of Management for Compliance

Management is responsible for compliance with the requirements referred to above and for the design, implementation, and maintenance of effective internal control over compliance with the requirements of laws, statutes, regulations, rules and provisions of contracts or grant agreements applicable to REFB's federal programs.

Independent Auditor's Report on Compliance for Each Major Federal Program and Report on Internal Control Over Compliance Required by the Uniform Guidance (continued)

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of Compliance

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether material noncompliance with the compliance requirements referred to above occurred, whether due to fraud or error, and express an opinion on REFB's compliance based on our audit. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and therefore is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with GAAS, Government Auditing Standards, and the Uniform Guidance will always detect material noncompliance when it exists. The risk of not detecting material noncompliance resulting from fraud is higher than for that resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Noncompliance with the compliance requirements referred to above is considered material, if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, it would influence the judgment made by a reasonable user of the report on compliance about REFB's compliance with the requirements of each major federal program as a whole.

In performing an audit in accordance with GAAS, Government Auditing Standards, and the Uniform Guidance, we:

- Exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.
- Identify and assess the risks of material noncompliance, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding REFB's compliance with the compliance requirements referred to above and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.
- Obtain an understanding of REFB's internal control over compliance relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances and to test and report on internal control over compliance in accordance with the Uniform Guidance, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of REFB's internal control over compliance. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and any significant deficiencies and material weaknesses in internal control over compliance that we identified during the audit.

Report on Internal Control Over Compliance

A deficiency in internal control over compliance exists when the design or operation of a control over compliance does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct, noncompliance with a type of compliance requirement of a federal program on a timely basis. A material weakness in internal control over compliance is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control over compliance, such that there is a reasonable possibility that material noncompliance with a type of compliance requirement of a federal program will not be prevented, or detected and corrected, on a timely basis. A significant deficiency in internal control over compliance is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control over compliance with a type of compliance requirement of a federal program that is less severe than a material weakness in internal control over compliance, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

Independent Auditor's Report on Compliance for Each Major Federal Program and Report on Internal Control Over Compliance Required by the Uniform Guidance (continued)

Report on Internal Control Over Compliance (continued)

Our consideration of internal control over compliance was for the limited purpose described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of Compliance section above and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control over compliance that might be material weaknesses or significant deficiencies in internal control over compliance. Given these limitations, during our audit we did not identify any deficiencies in internal control over compliance that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above. However, material weaknesses or significant deficiencies in internal control over compliance may exist that were not identified.

Our audit was not designed for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of internal control over compliance. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.

The purpose of this report on internal control over compliance is solely to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over compliance and the results of that testing based on the requirements of the Uniform Guidance. Accordingly, this report is not suitable for any other purpose.
